2. Introduction

The Promotion of Access to Information Act, No. 2 of 2000 (“PAIA”) gives effect to the constitutional right of access to any information held by any private or public body that is required for the exercise or protection of any rights. PAIA prescribes the procedures to be complied with regarding such a request. Section 9 of PAIA recognises that the right to access information is subject to certain justifiable limitations, for instance limitations aimed at, but not limited to the reasonable protection of privacy; commercial confidentiality; and effective, efficient and good governance.

In addition, the recently enacted Protection of Personal Information Act, No. 4 of 2013 (“POPIA”) promotes and provides for the protection of personal information processed by public and private bodies. Moreover, POPIA amended certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information. Accordingly, the purpose of this PAIA Manual is to inform a person on how to obtain access to records held by Blue Label Unlimited Group Limited and its subsidiary companies, thereby giving effect to Section 51 of PAIA.

They provide guidance to employees and third parties, ensure consistent security practices across our organisation, and support accountability, compliance, and effective incident management.

15.2 Endpoint Detection & Response (EDR)

EDR solutions continuously monitor endpoints such as laptops, servers, and workstations for malicious behaviour. They provide advanced threat detection, investigation capabilities, and rapid response mechanisms to stop malware, ransomware, and other endpoint-based attacks.

15.3 Secure architecture and deployment assessments for all systems (on-prem and cloud)

Secure architecture and deployment assessments ensure that systems are designed and implemented with security built in from the start. By evaluating infrastructure, applications, and configurations before and during deployment, we reduce the risk of vulnerabilities, misconfigurations, and insecure integrations across both on-premise and cloud environments.

15.4 Encryption for data at rest and in transit

Encryption protects sensitive data by converting it into unreadable formats that can only be accessed with authorised keys. Encrypting data both while it is stored and while it is being transmitted ensures that information remains secure even if systems, networks, or devices are compromised.
